

Investment Services Disclaimer

The data contained in the marketing materials of Broker Consulting, a.s. (the "Company") are provided for information only and are not intended to replace the disclosure of key information or the statute or to provide a complete summary thereof. Further, they shall not replace an individual assessment of the investor's target market and shall not specify it as suitable for the subject investment instrument or product.

The provision of investment services shall never be regarded as a form or alternative to a bank deposit, supplementary pension insurance or insurance. The return on investment is not always certain, every investment involves a risk, and due to possible unpredictable fluctuations in the financial markets, the achievement of the investment objectives cannot be guaranteed. Investors make their own decisions about the benefits and suitability of investing in any investment instruments, taking into account price, potential danger and risk. High yield represents a higher risk, low yield does not always guarantee a lower risk.

Exchange rates, prices, yields, returns, performance or other parameters achieved by the individual instruments or products in the past shall in no way serve as an indicator or guarantee of future rates, prices, yields, returns, performance or other parameters of identical or similar instruments or products, and they may change over time, i.e. increase or decrease.

Expected or possible yields are not guaranteed, the past returns do not guarantee future returns. The value of investment may increase or decrease over time and the Company does not guarantee return on the amount originally invested, does not assume responsibility either for actions taken on the basis of information contained in marketing communications, or for the accuracy and completeness of such information, and recommends that investors consult their investment plans with their professional consultant at the respective Company branch.
